

Green Eggs and Ham Analysis

Green Eggs and Ham written by Dr. Seuss has a very unique plot.

The plot consists of a stubborn unnamed character, who refuses to try the green eggs and ham. Sam, another character in the book, tries to get the unnamed character to try something new. He refused to try it and Sam refused to let him pass up an amazing opportunity. Sam lists all these places he can eat it and the animals he can eat it with.

Every stanza has a repetition of words that rhyme.

As the story progresses the paragraphs get longer and longer with more rhymes that don't necessarily make sense. Sam has a goal and is very persistent to get there.

Dr. Seuss uses this book to tell kids that you need to try new things. At the end of the story the unnamed character finally tries the food and loves it. Then he starts listing where and who he will eat it with. This story is all about trying new things and you can't judge it on how it looks or smells.
